

FAQS for #CLUBSINCRISIS Fund

1. The Funding

What is the funding for?

Sports clubs or organisations working within the sport for development sector, which are able to demonstrate that the Covid-19 pandemic has adversely affected them, either operationally or financially, and which require funding to save, resume or adapt their activity.

How much can I apply for?

A one-off grant of £2,021. If you don't need as much as that but would like to apply anyway, please do.

What can the funding be spent on?

The funding is unrestricted so can be spent on core costs as well as on programme or capital costs.

In normal circumstances, Made by Sport funding would not be able to be used for either debt repayment or for costs incurred before the funding was agreed. However, each participating Community Foundation will ensure that applications for these types of costs are assessed and considered in light of the pandemic if the unique requirement to cover these costs meets the aims of the Fund.

Are there any other conditions of the grant?

No, but we are interested in the funding being used for two things and will ask you about this in the end of project reporting:

- As the funding is unrestricted, we'd love to see it used as match funding to leverage other funds for your club or organisation.
- We'd also like to see how it can be used to ensure the sustainability of your club.

3. The Process

When can I apply?

The Fund will be open for applications on April 12th 2021.

There aren't any specific deadlines for application, but the sooner you apply the better as we expect high demand for the funding and we only have a certain amount of funding to award.

How do I apply?

The fund will be administered by local Community Foundations and each one may have a slightly different process. Enter your postcode here and you'll be taken to the Community Foundation which is administering funding in your area. You'll find the application form there, along with any other information that you need to guide you through the process.

What information will I need to apply?

We'll ask you to complete an application form which will have various sections, including:

- Proof of your eligibility for the fund – your constitution, where you operate, your organisation size, your purpose against the five social outcomes and so on.
- Further information about your organisation including your contact details, who you work with, how you are funded, how many young people are in your organisation and who it is run by.
- What you would like the funding for.
- We'll also ask for evidence, for example of your bank account, and that you are delivering sport for a social purpose.

What happens after I apply?

Again, each Community Foundation will have a slightly different process and they'll tell you all about the process, deadlines, what happens if you are successful or unsuccessful and so on.

Appendix 1 - Defining Sport for Development

What differentiates sport for development from community sport?

Sport for development is defined as the intentional use of sport to achieve other social outcomes and is a powerful tool to help young people deal with these issues. Community sports clubs and organisation's deliver better mental health, less crime and anti-social behaviour, pathways to employment, life-skills and community-cohesion.

Community sport - focusses on developing and widening opportunities to participate, traditionally within voluntary sports clubs and organisations overseen by governing bodies.

Sport for development - intentionally uses community sport provision to deliver wider social outcomes, usually through third sector and voluntary, community and social enterprise (VCSE) bodies. Mostly in disadvantaged communities, these organisations often work collaboratively with other partners to meet local need and may offer cross-sector activities.

Outcomes based funding:

The MBS fund will only fund sport for development projects and organisations which work towards one or more of those outcomes:

Developing Life Skills

We will support projects and organisations which develop the soft skills that will ultimately improve the life chances of young people, specifically projects which work towards any of the six key areas of life skills development identified by the WHO:

1. Communication and interpersonal skills.
2. Decision-making and problem solving.
3. Creative thinking and critical thinking.
4. Self-awareness and empathy.
5. Assertiveness and self-control.
6. Resilience.

Improving Mental Health.

We will support projects and organisations which promote positive mental health through physical activity, which:

- Achieve increased confidence and resilience.
- Encourage positive social interaction.
- Specifically address mental health issues such as depression, anxiety or ADHD.
- Focus on general wellbeing and wellness.

Reducing Crime and Anti-Social Behaviour

We will support projects and organisations which reduce crime and anti-social behaviour, either through providing diversionary activities at key times, or through modifying and promoting positive behaviour.

Developing Employability Skills

We will support projects and organisations which either develop employability skills or those which provide actual pathways to employment.

To differentiate projects working towards this outcome from projects working towards the general soft skills outcome, we will prioritise projects working towards one of the following three outcomes, for young people aged 16 and above:

1. Communication and interpersonal skills, including working well with others.
2. Reliability and dependability, including meeting deadlines and turning up on time.
3. The ability and willingness to learn new skills, whether job-specific or more general.

In terms of specific pathways to employment, we will include funding for volunteer pathways and qualifications in sport.

Building Stronger Communities

We will support projects and organisations which build and rebuild communities, for example:

- Those which encourage integration or bridge divides between groups of people.
- Those providing opportunities for vulnerable or marginalised groups.

We appreciate that many projects and organisations may work towards more than one of these outcomes and will ensure that this can be demonstrated through the application process.
